3.3 This project encompasses a series of events in Barking and Dagenham to support the 16 Days of Action on Domestic Violence, which commences during November for ‘White Ribbon Day’ on 25 November. The campaign encourages people to wear a white ribbon and to make a pledge as a commitment to play their part in standing up to condemn violence against women. We aim to raise awareness and to publicise the support available for those experiencing domestic abuse, link to direct services and empower the holistic approach to addressing the impact of domestic violence across the partner agencies. The National Campaign of 16 Days of Action ran from 25 November – 10 December.

4. Alcohol Awareness Week

4.2 Alcohol Awareness Week in England and Wales rans from 17-23 November 2014 and encouraged people to think about how much they are drinking. Activities targeted the whole community, high streets, young people and older people. This year’s theme was “taking back our health and high streets”, which provided an opportunity to deliver health messages relating to alcohol use within the community.
